The total sales of stocks to-day were 647,-155 shares, including the following: Atchison, 49,370; Canada Southern, 10,920; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 22,000; Delaware & Hudson, 4,700; Lake Shore, 3,900; Louisville & Nashville, 7,200; Missouri Pacific, 0,000; Northwestern, 5,700; New Jersey Central, 4,400; Northern Pacific, 9,000; Oregon Transcontinental, 4,700; Pacific Mail. 3,700; Reading, 42,750; Richmond & West Point, 57,125; St. Paul, 31,900; Texas Pacific, 5,100; Union Pacific, 19,000; Western Union, 18,200.

The stock market to-day was extremely active all the way out, while the strength shown kept pace with the activity, and an almost unbroken line of advances among the active shares is the result of the day's operations. The trading to-day gave the most positive evidence that the public is in the market to a much larger extent than it has been given credit for of late, and the professional operators found the making of quotations entirely out of their hands, which is a comparatively new experience for them. The recent disturbances in the West seemingly count nothing against the general impression that values are on the up grade, and news of the day, especially that of a bearish tenor, was paid absolutely no attention. Foreigners were more of a factor to-day than they have been at any time yet, and the purchases for foreign account yet, and the purchases for foreign account gave the market its first advance to-day, in the face of considerable pressure brought to bear by the "shorts." Commission houses were well supplied with buying orders, and at every concession there was a flood of buying orders executed, which quickly turned the course of prices, and the reactions were short and of small importance. In some stocks there was considerable excitement at times, and while different shares came to the front at different times there was no diminution from beginning to end. In the early dealings the coalers were there was no diminution from beginning to end. In the early dealings the coalers were most prominent for strength, and Delaware & Hudson shot up 5 per cent., to 175; Jersey Central following. The grangers and Southwesterns also led in the forencen, but later the trusts, and especially Lead and Chicago Gas, took the lead, followed later by Atchison, St. Paul and Richmond & West Point. The bull points were out on almost everything on the list, and there was scarcely a stock which did not share in the general improvement. Among the spethe general improvement. Among the specialties there were not so many marked improvements, but the San Francisco stocks were again sharply advanced, and Mexican Central and Laclede Gas were specially prominent for both strength and animation. There were realizations all day long, but the selling was heaviest toward delivery hour, and a temporary reaction was forced at that time, but the demand was too much for the soilers, and the market closed very active and strong generally at about the highest prices of the day. The list is almost invariably higher, and Delaware & Hudson, after a partial reaction, is up 4 per cent, Chicago Gas, 258, Atchison 214, Missouri Pa-

The dealings in railroad bonds kept pace with those in stocks, and the grand total of transactions to-day is $4,355,000, out of nch Atchison fours figured for Atlantic & Pacific incomes $660,000, and Texas Pacific incomes and Reading firsts smaller amounts. The activity extended to all the issues of the road in process of reorganization, and while the tone of the market was strong, it was not so pro-nounced as that in stocks, several declines of magnitude taking place. The principal advances comprise Atchison incomes, 218, to 7018; Chicago & West Indiana general sixes, 2, to 119; St. Joseph & Grand Island seconds, 3, to 46.

TRADING AT CHICAGO. Easier Feeling and Lower Values for Wheat,

Corn and Oats-Pork Unsettled. CHICAGO, May 14.-An easier feeling in wheat existed and prices were lower all around. The opening was 34c lower for July than yesterday's closing and declined 340 more, then rallied 78c, again eased off. ruled irregular, and closed 1@11sc lower than yesterday. May closed 12c lower, and June about 3c lower. Within the established range the fluctuations were quite frequent, but withal a steadier feeling existed at the decline than has been noted for several days. Only a fair business was transacted. All kinds of crop news was received, good and bad, but the market was hardly as susceptible to those reports as for some days past. There was a weaker feeling in corn, and lower prices were the rule on all futures. The chief influence on values was the fine weather and decline in wheat. The temper of the local crowd was bearish from the opening, which was 4c under yesterday's closing prices, and under the free offerings sold off 4c, later ruled weaker and declined another 4c, and final quotations were 12@5sc lower than yester-day. There was fair animation noted in oats and a weaker feeling developed, and price changes were confined to 7sc range. The weakness in wheat and corn, and fine The weakness in wheat and corn, and fine weather had a depressing effect and induced free selling by several operators but free buying by another heavy operator absorbed most of the offerings, but failed to prevent a decline. Trading was only moderate in pork, and the feeling was unsettled. Offerings were fair early, and prices receded 15-20c. Later the market ruled firmer, prices rallied 15-20c again, and closed quiet at outside figures. Only a fair trade was reported in lard. Prices ruled .02-20c lower early, but rallied again and closed steady. Trading was more active in short ribs than for several days past. Early the feeling was easy, and prices re-stronger, and prices rallied again, closing steady. The leading futures ranged as fol-

Trade Better To-Day; with No Changes in

Values of Importance.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 14. In all departments of trade to-day there was more activivity than on Monday or Tuesday, and were the weather to continue more summer-like in its character for a few days a decided increase in trade is looked for. The dry-goods men and the boot-and-shoe dealers had a busy day. A number of buyers were in and mail orders were liberal. Grocers, as well, report trade more active. The steady, strong tone to prices on all staple articles, unless it be package coffees, makes it safe for the retail merchant to stock up ahead more free than when prices are fluctuating. The flour market is more active than it has been for months, but the supply of wheat is so scant that the local millers are not producing more than one-half their usual daily output. Prices on all grades are better. The hide market is less active at unchanged The hide market is less active at unchanged prices. The new clip of wool is beginning to come in more freely, and prices rule weak. Poultry and eggs are in good request, prices ruling steady. The market is becoming overstocked with butter, and prices rule weak. Oranges and lemons are meeting with fair sale. The supply of the former is light and prices are firmer, although not quotably higher. There are but a few onions on the market, and prices rule strong. Cabbage is more pleuty and prices are easing up a little. Other markets are without feature.

The local market on all cereats ruled easier than on Tuesday, although there was no marked decline in prices. Track

Correspondence New York Tribune. A mule is always worth 25 per cent, more than a horse, because 50 per cent, better. Close acquaintance with mules for about

Close acquaintance with mules for about five years has taught me this fact. They are really more docile than horses; are hardier; do more work; eat less, and thrive upon coarser fare; are never sick unless shamefully ill used or ill fed; live longer and are more useful while they live. I never saw a mule team run away. Mules rarely stumble on the roughest roads; are scarcely ever balky, and will pull heavy loads as steadily as oxen, hanging on in the traces with all their weight, without any jerks or giving back. the harnesses last longer than with horses. They may be made as kind in disposition as horses by the same kind treatment.

Some Recipes. Grandmother's Gingerbread.—This is the real old-fashioned gingerbread of our child-hood's days. One cup of New Orleans molasses, three tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in five tablespoonfuls of hot water, ginger, salt, and half a teaspoonful of powdered alum. Two and a half cups of sitted flour. Pour into well-butt-ared iron pans about half an inch thick and bake in a quick Pickled Eggs.—These are made with several different kinds of pickle, namely, by using simply hot viriegar; by using vinegar which has stood on slices of blood-beets until it has absorbed the coloring matter from them, and by seasoning vinegar with different spices. from them, and by seasoning vinegar with different spices, as you would for fruit-pickles, only omitting sugar. But, whatever pickle you use, the eggs are always prepared by boiling them hard and carefully removing the shell, then putting in a jar or other deep vessel which will allow of their being entirely covered with the pickle. Let them stand three or four days before using.

Strawberry Cake.—This is something more than the old-fashioned strawberry short-cake. Make a simple sponge cake and bake in two layers; when done these should not be an inch thick. For the filling bring a pint of milk to the boiling point in a double boiler, add the yolks of three eggs well beaten with two table-spoonfuls of sugar and one of corn-starch; stir until it thickens, and turn out to cool. While the cakes are still warm, spread a layer of this over; cover thickly and regu-larly with large strawberries; lay on the second layer of cake, cover with a thinner layer of the cream, and place berries on top. Dust with powdered sugar and serve with a pitcher of milk or cream.

Plum Pudding.—A crumb plum pudding. easily made and with good keeping quali-ties, is a very convenient and useful kind of rich dessert. This one has been evolved by experiment and approved as a decided success. Soak a pint of dry crumbs in milk to cover them, using whatever stale cake you may have on hand, mixed with crackers if necessary. Any dark and light cakes may be mixed; from macamons to gingerbread nothing comes amiss. When the crumbs have taken up all the milk that they will absorb, beat them well with a fork, add a heaping tables poonful of finely chopped suet, and a little caramel to deepen the color, spices at discretion, according to the kind of cake used, an additional pint of milk and four or five well-beaten eggs. A small cup of well-seeded raisins and currants will answer, or one may use two or three times as much fruit if a richer pudding is wanted. Steam or bake for an hour. This pudding is good either hot or cold, with a liquid sauce; or, if cold, with sugar and cream. It will keep several days in a cool place.

An emulsion of one quart of kerosene in five gallons of strong soapsuds is an excellent remedy for the caterpillars that will now infest apple trees, but kerosene is fatal to peach trees. The proper way, however, is to tear out all the nests that appear in the trees and burn them, which work should be done late in the afternoon.

Girdling, as well as root pruning, often induces fruitfulness, when nearly all other treatment fails, but it should not be undertaken without a proper knowledge of how it should be done.
